SKIRTS AND WRAPS.

Velvet Jackets Trimmed With Jet—Fur and Dotted Taffeta.

The tendency toward trimmed skirts is becoming more and more pronounced.
Sometimes the trimming is only a double fold at the sides; sometimes it is panels; sometimes lengthwise applications of passionerie or embroidery. Double rows of buttons are often placed down the side, or scarfs of silk or ribbon are fastened in at the belt with loops, rosettes and large bows set on at intervals. Occasionally the entire front is wrought in embroidery or is made of crimped material or some sort of contrasting fabric, either figured or plain goods.

Polka dotted taffeta is popular for waists and comes in various colors.
Cloth of all kinds, fur and heavy trimmings are fashionable. Fur appears everywhere and to great advantage. Gowns, capes, coats and hats are trimmed with it and no doubt the manufacturers of the cheap imitation varieties will reap a large harvest, since many women think they are keeping closer to the fashion by wearing sham fur, if they cannot afford the real, than by avoiding it altogether.

Tight fitting velvet jackets, powdered with a jet design over the shoulders and on the tops of the sleeves, are among the new things recently seen at a fashionable establishment, while pretty molton cloth capotes reaching to below the waist and having a very high flaring collar are strapped in narrow and gradually approaching lines, running up from the edge of the cape to the collar and again widening out upon the latter. Dark satin or flowered silk linings complete these neat little capotes, or tartan silks are similarly employed.

The popular cape pattern is full and short, just reaching the waist line. Cloth is employed, as it is intended for ordinary service rather than for dress purposes. The collar is a full ruffling of silk, plaited double, or with the outside of the cape goods and the lining of silk.

An illustration is given of a jacket of iron gray cloth. It has a ripple basque and opens diagonally. A pelerine covers the shoulders and forms revers, which, like the jacket itself, are adorned with black silk galloon straps terminating in jet beads. The jacket is lined with changeable surah. The hat worn with this jacket is of iron gray felt trimmed with gray plumes and black velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

How Tim Murphy Started.

Some years ago a young man walked into a paintshop where he was employed, threw down his brushes and said: "I am going on the stage. I can make more money in one night there than I can in one week here." He did not forecast well. He is making more money in one night now than he could make in half a dozen weeks at his original occupation. His name is Tim Murphy, the star of "A Texas Steer."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 4.—The stock market with hardly an exception worked lower to day. The volume of business was considerably lighter than on Tuesday. The dealings in Sugar stock were half as large as yesterday, but constituted about one-third of the total.
Early in the day general advances in foreign and domestic grades of sugars served as an argument to bull the stock and a gain of 2 per cent was recorded in it. At the top figures, realizing sales were encountered and unfavorable rumors were current in regard to probable legal attacks upon the company in this and other States. In the afternoon the rumors crystallized into the serving of papers upon the secretary and treasurer of the company in a suit to restrain it from doing business in the State of New York. The movement was regarded as largely speculative in character.
The stock was practically unaffected by the news and left off at a net gain of 1 per cent, being sustained by expectations that the regular quarterly dividend on preferred and common stocks will be declared to-morrow. The closing was quiet and heavy at the lowest of the day at sharp concessions in some instances. Railroad bonds were moderately active to-day and firm in tone despite some irregularity in prices.
Concessions, as a rule, were only made in the active class. The sales were $1,333,000.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The grain market

FOREVER AND A DAY.

Urges me not, I pray,
All the air is golden;
Every thorny spray
In the sunlight blazes,
And my thoughts are holden
By the warbling thrushes.
Urges me not today.

Oh, when winds of May Shake the boughs with laughter Till they toss and sway, Till they kiss and sever,
Speak not of hereafter, Breathe not of forever—Give me but today.

—J. K. Wetherill in Travelers' Record.

Meddle once signified "to concern oneself with." It is so used in the Scriptures, where the expression occurs, "meddle with your own business."

A Mountain of Dishes confronts the average housewife after all the family have dined. They are greasy dishes, too, and hard to get perfectly clean with ordinary soap and water. A good many thoughtful wives have discovered that the best, easiest and quickest way to wash dishes is to use GOLD DUST
Washing Powder in the dish water. It acts like magic—cuts the grease and makes the dishes clean. All cleaning is made easier by this great cleanser. It is cheap, too—that's the best of it. 25c.
